PUT YOUR HAIR UP
This is the new spirit of the beehive

HUGENOTS THERE?
From Laurence Olivier to Simon Le Bon, they still influence Britain

ROSES: OLD VERSUS NEW
And a preview of H&Q's Jennifer-Betty Kenward rose

WHERE THE POUND FALLS
Under-30s in the Foreign Exchange deal at £58,333.33 a second

GOING INSANE IN JAPAN
Not a funny story

MANHATTAN CLUBS
Where to dance, drink, party, 24 hours a day

PLUS
Victoria Glendinning, Dorothy Tutin, Andrew Barrow, Merce Cunningham, Nigel Nicolson, Mary Quant, Christopher Reid, Cab Calloway, Maxine Feifer
Their family motto was: 'laughter before food.' The house was always filled with the sound of laughter and the aroma of food. The atmosphere was warm and welcoming, with family and friends always welcome.

Lady Arran was an expert in the art of cooking, and she never failed to impress with her culinary creations. She was known for her delicious meals, and her recipes were passed down from generation to generation. Lady Arran was also a master gardener, and she loved spending time in her garden, tending to her flowers and vegetables. She was always eager to share her knowledge and love of nature with others.

One day, Lady Arran decided to plant a new garden in the middle of the town, and she invited her family and friends to help her. The garden was a beautiful addition to the town, and it quickly became a popular gathering place.

Lady Arran was also a great lover of art, and she was always eager to support local artists. She would often invite them to her home, and she would host art exhibitions and events to showcase their work.

Despite her busy schedule, Lady Arran always made time for her family and friends. She was a warm and generous person, always willing to lend a helping hand or offer a shoulder to cry on. Her love and kindness were infectious, and everyone who knew her was touched by her gentle spirit.

Lady Arran passed away peacefully in her sleep, surrounded by loved ones. Her legacy lives on through the memories of those who were privileged to know her, and the gardens and art exhibitions that she helped to create. She will always be remembered as a kind and generous soul, with a heart as big as her garden.